Dear Sir/Madam,

We are pleased to inform you that our new website is now available to the general public (www.eurydice.org). Further information on all its main features is contained in the attached leaflet.

Your attention is drawn to the fact that the following three types of browsing are possible on the website:

- by indicator and Figure,
- by country,
- by topic.

Furthermore, the website is in English, French and German, and provides access to the full versions of all Eurydice studies in several languages.

The website contains over 1 000 maps, tables and diagrams. We hope you will find it useful and that it will give you a deeper insight into European education systems at all levels from pre-primary to higher and adult education.

We also enclose a bookmark as a daily reminder of the existence of the Eurydice Network.

We trust that you will be among a great many visitors to the new website.

Kindest regards,

Patricia Wastiau-Schlüter
