Dear Mr. President,

Dear Colleagues,

I would like to thank you for your close and kind attention devoted to myself during the 02.07.2009 elections in the capital city of Latvia, Vilnius.

I have full confidence in human rights, democracy and a more independent world that are the common points of humanity which will be reached in a body . A Prominent Turkish Poet and Philosopher Mevlana wrote almost thousands years ago:

"People not speaking the same language, but sharing the same emotions can get along well with each other".

Our collective aspiration is the establishment of fundamental human rights, democracy and a more independent world. Those are our shared experiences and emotions driven out of our common grief that we don't want to be reiterated any more in a world where the history of humanity has been full of pain and sorrow. I believe firmly that same feelings will unite us over the same language.

Availing the opportunity, I would like to extend you my best wishes and, with these sentiments, hope to see you in the very near future.

Best regards,

Canan KALSIN
