Emne: DIIS seminar 16 March "Arab Spring - Where are the Democratic Movements One Year Later?"

The Danish Institute for International Studies (DIIS), the Danish Institute for Parties and Democracy (DIPD) and Enhedslisten have the pleasure of inviting you to a seminar on:

Arab Spring –
Where are the Democratic Movements One Year Later?
Friday, 16 March 2012, 12.30-14.30
Danish Institute for International Studies
Main Auditorium
Strandgade 71, ground floor, 1401 Copenhagen K

Background

Following the analyses of the Arab 'revolutions' produced by various analysts during the spring 2011, this seminar will address the question of where the popular democratic movements and demands stand to day, a year later.

After the elections of Tunisia (October 2011) and Egypt (January 2012), what is to be expected from the electoral victory of Political Islam? And what are the prospects for the ongoing developments in Syria?

Speakers

Samir Amin, President, the World Forum for Alternatives
Lars Erslev Andersen, Senior Researcher, DIIS
Rasmus Alenius Boserup, Project Researcher, DIIS

Programme

More details about the seminar are available on our website.

Practical Information

The seminar will be held in English.

Participation is free of charge, but registration is required. Please use our online registration form no later than Thursday, 15 March 2012 at 12.00 noon.
