

Fra: Sustainability [<mailto:sustainability@science.ku.dk>]

Sendt: 18. september 2013 08:50

Emne: Two unique Sustainability Lectures coming up

The University of Copenhagen is pleased to invite you to two unique Copenhagen Sustainability Lectures:

What have future generations done for me lately?

Making sense of the role of media in shaping awareness and engagement with climate change

October 22nd 14.00-15.30 at Auditorium 22.0.11, University of Copenhagen Amager, Emil Holms Kanal, Building 22

Don't miss out on Max Boykoff's talk on the role of mass media in the climate change debate. Boykoff is author of Who Speaks for the Climate? and Assistant Professor in the Center for Science and Technology Policy at the University of Colorado-Boulder. He has concentrated his research on the interactions between state and non-state actors at the interface of environmental science, policy and practice.

Bo Lidegaard, Editor in Chief of the Danish newspaper Politiken, will respond with Prorektor for Education Lykke Friis as moderator. Sign up for free online

Where is the green economy?

Prosperity and sustainability "after the crisis"

October 23rd 10.00-11.30 at the Ceremonial Hall, University of Copenhagen, Frue Plads 4

Professor Tim Jackson, author of the renowned and controversial book Prosperity without growth – Economics for a finite planet, will challenge the traditional perception of the financial system and suggest a sustainable alternative. A unique chance to get to grips with the complex relationships between growth, environmental crises and social recession. Tim Jackson is professor of Sustainable Development at the University of Surrey and was Economics Commissioner on the UK Sustainable Development Commission.

Sign up for free online

Read more about the lectures in the attached announcements.

Please distribute this invitation where appropriate.

Kind regards,
On behalf of the Sustainability Science Centre

Annette Jeholm
Executive Secretary

University of Copenhagen
Sustainability Science Centre
Røllighedsvej 23
DK-1958 Frederiksberg C

DIR +45 3533 1019
ajeh@science.ku.dk
www.sustainability.ku.dk

UNIVERSITY OF COPENHAGEN