

Apr 15, 2014

Political parties visit to Denmark
April 27th- May 2nd, 2014

Participants

- Mr. Mohamed El-Oraby (Confirmed):
Party president of the Congress Party; founded by Amb. AmrMoussa. El-Oraby is the former minister of Foreign Affairs, a former ambassador of Egypt to Germany; he was a member of the diplomatic group representing Egypt in Kuwait, London, Washington, and Tel Aviv.
- Mr. Ahmed Abdel Gawad (Confirmed):
Abdel Gawad is the secretary general of Strong Egypt party. Strong Egypt party is a moderate political party founded by Mr. Abdel MoniemAboulFetouh, a former prominent member of the Muslim Brotherhood. Strong Egypt party claim to be a cross-ideological political platform that carries Leftist Islamic inclinations.
- The Constitution Party (Pending):
Will be represented by a person from the top party leadership. This is currently being negotiated with the party's
- Mr. Mahmoud El-Alyli (Confirmed):
El-Alyli is the current secretary general of the Free Egyptian party, the most known liberal political party in the Egyptian scene at the moment.
- Mr. HossamKhouly (Confirmed):
Khouly is the secretary general of Al-Wafd party. Al-Wafd party is the oldest liberal party in the Egyptian modern history; the party was placed third in terms of the parliamentary representation in the last parliament.
- Mrs. Fadeya Salem (Confirmed) :
Salem is a member of the Reform and Development party, a former parliamentarian elected in South Sinai. She currently act as the governor's advisor on women's issues in South Sinai governorate.
- Mr. Ashraf Thabet (Confirmed):
Thabet is the secretary general of Al-Nour party. Al-Nour party is one of the political parties created after the 2011 Egyptian revolution. It has an ultra-conservative Islamist ideology, and has been described as the political arm of the Salafi Society, and by far the most prominent of the several new Salafi parties in Egypt