

INVITATION

Why does Denmark slide down the global sustainability index? What are the consequences?

From being number 2 out of 129 countries on the global sustainability index in the previous rating Denmark is sliding down to number 5.

Denmark's previous AAA rating correspondingly is sliding down to an AAB rating.

It will become apparent from WEC's World Energy Trilemma Report for 2014, which will be announced in Washington DC, 24 November 2014. WEC Denmark and DI Energy has even now organized a presentation of the report in Denmark on 1 December.

DI Energy and WEC Denmark invites to a presentation and discussion of the rating:

- How is the rating performed?
- Why is Denmark's rating sliding down?
- What are the consequences for our reputation and export of green technology?
- What can Denmark do to get back on track?

PROGRAMME

Time

Monday 01 December 2014
14:30 - 17:00

Venue

House of Industry
H.C. Andersens Boulevard 18
1553 Copenhagen V

Registration

Please register by sending an e-mail to kontakt@wec-danmark.dk

No later than

26 November 2014

Contact

Leif Sønderberg Petersen
Secretary-General
+45 24 21 38 32
lepe@dtu.dk