

Hi, i read about the planned new law about the regulation of electronic cigarettes and nicotine containing liquids and would like to express my dissatisfaction with this restrictive outcast that discriminates vapers compared to smokers.

As a long term nicotine addict, that used to smoke over 30 cigarettes a day, electronic cigarettes have been the only working substitute after countless attempts to stop smoking and in the cause i have a much better life quality
And more money to spend on other products, supporting the danish economy.

besides the new law with its insane high fees basically destroys local busnisses, how come that kiosks selling cigarettes dont have to pay 30.000 kr for each brand they want to sell? In practice, it will just create a black market for liquids and e- cigarettes and you criminalise users. This has never worked and i hope you reconsider this absurd law, that seems to be engineered by the tobac union. Rather than demonish electronic cigarettes, the danish state should invest the dangers and fund more research and maybe even file it as a medicine, so it would be treated equal with other nicotine substitutes and the availability restricted.

The current draft reads like something you expect from a dictatorship, but not from a liberal country like denmark.

With best regards, Mike Nickel (Aarhus)
