

Kurdocide Watch focuses on genocide and human right matters in Kurdistan

Kobane needs your urgent help

Kurdish people are again under the threat of ethnic cleansing and genocide. After the attack from the terrorist organization of the Islamic State (IS) on the Kurdish city of Kobane there is a real risk for another massacre against the Kurdish residents.

While there is still a furious fight is ongoing between the Kurdish female and male fighters and the IS jihadists, thousands of civilian terrified people fleeing their homes as they will not end in the same horrific situation, which was happened to the Yazidi Kurds in Shengal in the previous month.

The Kurds in the Kurdish territory have been in relative safe, but now the situation are different as the IS assaults on the Kobane area with most of its forces and heavy weapons. The IS is attacking the Kurds without mercy and killing them without differentiate between civilians and fighters. As the IS accuses the Kurds as the allies of the western crusaders and therefor regarding them as traitors and the enemy of Islam.

The threat against the residents of Kobane is serious and the Kurdish fighters lacks of weapons and their injuries needs urgent medical treatment. There is lake of clean water and food. Kurdish fighters' resistance with their primitive Kalashnikovs against IS's heavy weapons is incredible and sensational. They have resisted for 23 days without outside help, and the burden is increasing as the IS makes advancement in some fronts. They need immediate military help and aids. There is a serious risk that Kobane fall in the hands of the IS's terrorist. If this happen a massacre of the Kobane inhabitants is unavoidable.

The international community should be aware that the Kurds do not trust Turkey, which has its own agenda as regards the Kurds in Syria. Turkish involvement and occupation of Kobane or any other parts of Kurdish territory will not be in Kurdish advantage. The Kurds are against Turkish occupation and Turkish involvement will make the problem worse.

What 's most important right now that the international community must stop the IS attack on the Kobane in order to prevent further ethnic cleansing and killings of innocent people. The international community should repeat the affective intervention that was happened in the Shengal case. I believe that preventing further crimes against the Kurds and rescuing them from another humanitarian disaster are duties of the international community.

We urge you to do what you are able to do in order to help the Kurds in Kobane so as to stop this criminal jihadists of IS and the attack on Kobane.

Best regards,

Kurdocide Watch – CHAK

Shakhawan Shorash, sshorash@yahoo.dk

Telf.: 00460766346142

