

AGENDA

Hearing at the Danish Parliament

Catalonia: Self-determination Within the European Union

26 November 2014

Værelse PRO-D i Provianthuset, Christiansborg

- 15.00 - 15.15 Welcoming remarks - Nikolaj Willumsen (Enhedslisten) and Carlos Villaro (ANC)
- 15.15 - 15.30 The institutional process until 9N2014 - Albert Royo (DIPLOCAT)
- 15.30 - 15.45 The role of civil society - Toni Segovia (ANC)
- 15.45 - 16.00 Denmark as a model for peaceful self-determination - Antoni Abat (Copenhagen University)
- 16.00 - 17.00 Debate (moderator: Carlos Villaro)
- 17.00 - 17.15 Conclusions and closure

The Catalan National Assembly (ANC) is a popular, unified, plural and democratic organisation working towards Catalonia becoming a new European State.

The ANC was officially established in March 2012, although it originated at the National Conference For Our Own State held a year earlier (April 2011). It is not a party and does not wish to become one. It is an association of citizens who participate freely as individuals, and who vote at elections for different options. What unites all of its members is the conviction that Catalonia has a right to its own voice in the world. That is, to become a democratic state, just like any other.

The Public Diplomacy Council of Catalonia (DIPLOCAT) is a public-private partnership designed to foster dialogue and build relationships between the citizens of Catalonia and the rest of the world.

DIPLOCAT seeks to contribute to discussions about the main global challenges by promoting the active involvement of Catalan society in the mutual exchange of ideas and best practices in key sectors like government, business, culture, and education, in order to promote a fairer, more peaceful, democratic and sustainable world.

The Council engages in public diplomacy with national and international audiences digitally and in person to create exchanges about Catalan issues as well as world affairs, organizing working visits, academic events, facilitating business networking, and by building capacity in international relations.

Seating is limited to 71. If you want to attend the event we kindly request you to send an email to denmark@asamblea.cat specifying number of people attending, full names and addresses in Denmark no later than Sunday 17:00 h.