Solution

- The person in question applies for Danish citizenship by declaration at the State Administration
- The State Administration cannot accept the application and issues a letter of intention
- The applicant submits the letter of intention to the Turkish Embassy
- The Turkish authorities issues a renunciation permit document to the applicant
- The applicant submits the renunciation permit document and a new declaration to the State Administration
- If the applicant now meets all the conditions the State Administration issues a certificate for Danish citizenship
- The State Administration informs the Turkish Embassy that the applicant has been granted Danish citizenship
- The Turkish authorities releases the applicant from his or her Turkish citizenship
