Emne: Invitation to the LutherConference and the award ceremony of the LutherRose 2016

We cordially invite you to our 9th LutherConference (on the occasion of Luther's 533rd birthday), which bears the title Luther, Marx and the consequences. The Reformation and the modern welfare state and to the subsequent Award ceremony of the LutherRose. Both events take place on 12th November 2016 in the Prinzen-Palais of the Danish National Museum in Copenhagen.

The theme of the Panel discussion at the LutherConference is Lutheran State Socialism? "Chances and Risks of current social politics in Denmark and Europe. The panel consists of well-known people from business and politics including the economic journalist of the Frankfurter Allgemeine Zeitung, Heike Göbel, who is also a member of the IMLS board of trustees, as well as Prof. Dr. Niels Kærgaard, economic advisor to the Danish government, Prof. Dr. Svend Andersen, professor for ethics at Aarhus University and Dr. Jakob Funk Kirkegaard of the Peterson Institute for International Economics in Washington, DC.

In the subsequent award ceremony the LutherRose 2016 for social responsibility and Entrepreneurial Courage will be presented to the chairman of the Poul Due Jensen Foundation Niels Due Jensen. The laudation for the awardee will be held by Karsten Dybvad, CEO of Dansk Industri. The European Commissioner for Competition, Margrethe Vestager will give the commemorative speech.

We have attached a letter of recommendation in Danish from Jens Oddershede, Formand for Præsidiets for Reformationsjubilæet as well as the programme including registration form and the Danish press release.

Please reply by 21st October 2016.
