6 – 7 June 2017 www.oecd.org/forum

OECD Forum, held alongside the main, annual OECD Ministerial meeting brings together high-level government representatives (Heads of State, Ministers) from OECD's member and partner countries with stakeholders from business, trade unions, civil society, academia and media to debate key global social and economic challenges.

The Forum includes a range of interactive formats to facilitate networking and exchange of expertise, views and ideas.

Since 2000, close to 24,000 people have participated in OECD Forum, sharing their visions and views on the critical issues that our societies face.
