

Fra: Conference Justitiaetpax.dk

Emne: The Common Good and Our Common Seas/ Invitation til konference 4. maj

Kære Medlemmer af Folketingets Miljø- og fødevareudvalg,

Hermed vil vi gerne invitere jer til konferencen The Common Good and Our Common Seas, som finder sted lørdag den 4. maj fra 13:00-18:00 i IDA på Kalvebod Brygge 31-33.

Konferencens formål er at mødes på tværs og tale om verdenshavene ud fra politiske, forretningsmæssige, miljømæssige vinkler og teologiske vinkler, hele tiden med mennesket i centrum.

Nedenfor finder I programmet, man kan tilmelde sig her: <https://commonseas.nemtilmeld.dk/1/>

Jeg står naturligvis til rådighed for spørgsmål,

Vi håber at se jer!

Venlig hilsen,

Maria Hammerhøy

Justitia et Pax Danmark

Tlf 26 167 147

13:00

WELCOME: Bishop Noel Treanor, President of Justice and Peace Europe.

Video greetings from Cardinal John Ribat, Archbishop of Port Moresby, Papua New Guinea, sharing stories of his fellow Papuans who have been forced to move inland from ancestral lands along the ocean as rising seas have inundated their homes.

13:15

Keynote of Cardinal Peter K.A. Turkson: On the integral approach for the Common Good on our Common Sea

13:45

ACTIVISM, SCIENCE AND CIVIC CULTURE

Moderator: Professor Bjørn Thomassen, Department of Social Sciences and Business at the Roskilde University, member of Justice and Peace Denmark

UN Special Envoy to the Oceans, Ambassador Peter Thomson: The Oceans and the Sustainable Development Goals

Dr. Jens Olaf Pepke Pedersen, Senior scientist, National Space Institute of the Technical University of Denmark: The State of the Oceans

Lead Scientist, Marine and Coastal Conservation Programme, Arocha, Dr Robert Sluka: Activist Culture Across the Globe (by video link)

Mr. Bernard Combes, UNESCO Programme Specialist, Education for Sustainable Development, and Education Sector Focal Point for Biodiversity: Learning about Oceans: Multiple-Perspective Approaches

Chair of the Board of the Global Island Partnership, Mr Grammenos Mastrojeni: How to Build Resilient and Sustainable Island Communities.

Dr. Cleopatra Doumbia-Henry, President of the International Maritime University of Malmø: How to Form Future Leaders to Preserve and Sustain our Common Seas

Archbishop Peter Loy Chong: A Testimony from the Pacific Ocean (video message)

15:30

Break

16:00

AN OCEAN OF ENERGY, FOOD AND COMMERCE

Moderator: Daniel Darmanin, President of Justice and Peace Malta

Conor Martin: Life as a Fisherman: Tradition and our Look for the Future

Mr Árni M. Mathiesen, Assistant Director-General of the Fisheries and Aquaculture Department of FAO: Fisheries: Sustainable Projects to Promote Livelihood and Culture.

Greetings from EU Commissioner for the Environment and Fisheries: Karmenu Vella (video message)

Dr. Jessica Sparks, Research Fellow in Antislavery and Ecosystems, Nottingham University, UK: How Modern Slavery, Environmental Destruction and Climate Change Affect Fisheries.

Mr Emil Lindblad Kernell, The Danish Institute for Human Rights: Seafarer's Rights in the Globalised Maritime Industry

Simon C. Bergulf, Director Regulatory Affairs, A.P. Møller–Maersk: Achieving the net zero, Maersk's vision for carbon neutral shipping

Director, Client Investments, CCLA Investment Management, Edward Kirwan: Placing our Money in the Service of Humanity

Scientist and Social Entrepreneur Hans Christian Sørensen, Ph.D.: An Ocean of Energy: Waves and Wind

Deacon Joe O'Donnel: The Church sailing with Seafarers

Bishop Noel Treanor of Connor and Down, President of Justice and Peace Europe: The Church Working with Civil Society - concluding words of the day.

18:00 End of programme