

PRESIDENCIA

Caracas-Venezuela, 24 de septiembre de 2019

Honorable

Parliamentary colleague,

As Interim President of the Bolivarian Republic of Venezuela, and on behalf of the members of the National Assembly, legitimate representatives of the Venezuelan People, I invite you to participate in the 1 World Summit of Parliamentarians for Democracy in Venezuela, an unprecedented meeting in latinamerica's democratic struggle, to be held in Caracas on November 26th, 2019.

The main objective of this Summit is to reaffirm the support of the free countries for the liberation of Venezuela and its return to democracy.

The Venezuelan crisis has deepened, and its humanitarian consequences are increasingly severe. The report from UN High Commissioner, Michelle Bachelet, for Human Rights showed how human rights are systematically violated in our country and how Venezuelans are forced to flee from a system that condemns them to hunger, repression and misery.

Today, Venezuela needs the support and commitment of parliamentarians from all over the world as worthy representatives of the peoples; this is a vital moment for the future of democracy in the free world and especially for Latin America. It would be a failure of the world's democracies if a failed regime, which seeks to destabilize the region, consolidates itself in Venezuela in the 21st century. Hence, we must all promote democracy in the region by strengthening the Venezuelan parliament.

There fore, we count with your valuable presence during the 1 World Summit of Parliamentarians for Democracy in Venezuela, an event of vital importance to join efforts and identify alternatives that contribute to the defense of democracy and freedom in Venezuela. This action will undoubtedly result in the welfare and stability of the Latin American region and the world by showing that united, we are able to overcome barbarism. In this sense, we ask of you to confirm your assistance to this event via the following e-mail: eventos2019@asambleanacionalvenezuela.org.

Atentamente,

Juan Guaidó

Presidente de la Asamblea Nacional

Presidente Encargado de la República Bolivariana de Venezuela

Caracas – Venezuela, September 24th , 2019

Dear

Ms Ana Giselle Rojas

Deputy

As Interim President of the Bolivarian Republic of Venezuela, and on behalf of the members of the National Assembly, legitimate representatives of the Venezuelan People, I invite you to participate in the I World Summit of Parliamentarians for Democracy in Venezuela, an unprecedented meeting in latinamerica's democratic struggle, to be held in Caracas on November 26th, 2019.

The main objective of this Summit is to reaffirm the support of the free countries for the liberation of Venezuela and its return to democracy.

The Venezuelan crisis has deepened, and its humanitarian consequences are increasingly severe. The report from UN High Commissioner, Michelle Bachelet, for Human Rights showed how human rights are systematically violated in our country and how Venezuelans are forced to flee from a system that condemns them to hunger, repression and misery.

Today, Venezuela needs the support and commitment of parliamentarians from all over the world as worthy representatives of the peoples; this is a vital moment for the future of democracy in the free world and especially for Latin America. It would be a failure of the world's democracies if a failed regime, which seeks to destabilize the region, consolidates itself in Venezuela in the 21st century. Hence, we must all promote democracy in the region by strengthening the Venezuelan parliament.

Therefore, we count with your valuable presence during the I World Summit of Parliamentarians for Democracy in Venezuela, an event of vital importance to join efforts and identify alternatives that contribute to the defense of democracy and freedom in Venezuela. This action will undoubtedly result in the welfare and stability of the Latin American region and the world by showing that united, we are able to overcome barbarism. In this sense, we ask of you to confirm your assistance to this event via the following e-mail: eventos2019@asambleanacionalvenezuela.org.

Attentively,

Juan Guaidó

President of the National Assembly

Interim President of the Bolivarian Republic of Venezuela