Statsministerens besvarelse af spørgsmål nr. 126 (URU alm. del)

Spørgsmål nr. 126:

”Vil ministeren kommentere følgende fra artiklen "Countries That Kept a Lid on Coronavirus Look to Each Other to Revive Their Economies" bragt den 2. Maj 2020 i Wall Street Journal: "The group - Australia, Austria, Israel, the Czech Republic, Denmark, Greece and New Zealand - is made up mainly of midsize and smaller countries, some with large tourism industries that could face devastation if foreign tourists stay at home this year. By eventually reopening their borders to citizens from other countries in the group, they hope to alleviate some of the economic pain caused by the recent confinement while limiting the risk of a rebound in infection."”

Svar:

Jeg skal anmode om, at spørgsmålet rettes til justitsministeren som den ansvarlige res-sortminister.

Med venlig hilsen

Mette Frederiksen
