Emne: Your invitation to Aquaculture Going Circular Event Webinar

INVITATION to Aquaculture Going Circular

Aquaculture is already engaging in circular concepts, but how do we understand circularity in the industry?

Join an informative and collaborative event discussing Circularity with high-level thinkers, circular economy experts, and leading aquaculture experts.

We will 'unpack' circularity and sustainability concepts, be inspired by early adopters, and help develop key policy messages.

Help create the answers to the most important questions for circularity in aquaculture today.

Agenda under finalisation, including topics in:

- Circular economy and sustainability in the aquaculture sector

How do we understand circularity within the aquaculture framework

How can circularity become part of daily business for the aquaculture industry

- Inspirational circular stories

Who are the existing key actors, and what can we learn from their experiences

- Key messages for policymakers

What policy messages are needed to ensure these actions are supported by regulators, officials, and the European Commission to make aquaculture more circular.

When: Tuesday, November 9th, 10.00 (CET) to 14.00 (CET)
