This includes the government's digitalisation strategy as well as investments in broadband pool and support measures for the digital transition of SMEs. On this basis we ask panellist how the Danish Recovery and Resilience Plan contributes to bringing forward the level of digitalisation in Denmark and if there are less developed spots that would deserve attention to keep Denmark's frontrunner position on digitalisation.

Participants in the digital roundtable:

- Isabel Grilo, Director for Economies of the Member States, DG ECFIN, European Commission
